

Back in the early 1930's when America was in the grip of its worst depression this writer was helping publicize a laboratory development over in Savannah, Ga., which promised to change the economic face of the South.

A chemist named Herby had discovered how to make the coarse white paper known as newsprint, on which newspapers are printed, out of Southern pine. Previously all newsprint had been manufactured from Northern wood pulp, principally the spruce of the states along the Great Lakes, Canada, Norway, Sweden and Finland. The resin content of Southern pine was supposed to stain paper beyond all hope of newspaper use.

But Dr. Herby whipped the resin problem, making his pulp from young pine in which the resin content wasn't prohibitive. From his pilot plant at Savannah he made an initial shipment of Southern pine pulp to Canada, had it manufactured into newsprint — and the return shipment was used in a demonstration run by nine Georgia dailies.

I obtained a copy of each of those nine Georgia Dailies and spread them on the bulletin board of The Star building. They attracted lumbermen and landowners from all over Arkansas.

They, like this writer, sensed the enormous importance of this discovery. It meant in the years to come that the South instead of buying newsprint would be manufacturing and selling it.

In January 1940 the first Southern pine newsprint mill using this Herby process, Southland Paper Mills, Inc., opened at Lufkin, Texas. It was followed in a few years by a second mill, the Coosa River Newsprint Co. in Alabama — and then by a third, the British Bowater International company, largest newsprint manufacturer in the world, its mill being located just east of Chattanooga, Tenn. And now, recently the great International Paper Co., largest of all, built a mill at Mobile, Ala., and is now constructing another at Pine Bluff in our state.

Was this mere dream stuff back in the 1930's? You know now it was the real McCoy — but how fabulous the story really is you couldn't possibly guess until you saw the financial figures. I have them right here.

The report is on Southland Paper Mills, Inc., the pioneer plant at Lufkin, Texas, with which this newspaper has had a charter contract since opening day in 1940. Our trade publication, Editor & Publisher, New York, reports:

"Net worth of the common stock of Southland Paper Mills, Inc., has risen from $3.79 in 1946 to $86.45 in 1955 — a 1,650 per cent increase.

"The Lufkin, Texas, company's 17th annual report shows an increase in net worth of more than 10 per cent for each year since 1950.

"Net income for 1955 before tax amounted to $8,522,567, compared with $6,014,717 in 1954, but profit on newsprint was $2.04 less per ton than for the year 1954 due to increased labor and material costs during 1954. With a 70,000-ton production increase annually due to start in July, another profitable year is expected, according to E. L. Kurth, president."

New High Speed Parachute to Be Tested

HURRICANE, Utah (AP) — A rocket sled racing 500 mph hurls a dummy over a canyon wall today in the first public demonstration of an experimental high-speed parachute jump.

Purpose of the project, known as Smart (supersonic military air research track), is to help develop and test ejection seats and parachutes for faster-than-sound aircraft.

More than 100 newsmen and technical experts were invited to watch.

An Air Force spokesman gave this advance picture:

A life-size dummy is seated in an ejection seat in the rocket sled. The sled is fired on tracks atop Lower Smith Mesa until it reaches 500 mph. A switch thrown in a control shack catapults the dummy and ejection seat into the air. Parachutes on each open automatically and they drift 1,500 feet into a canyon while cameras record their descent.

The sled is stopped at the brink of the mesa by a combination of powerful water brakes and stockied bales of hay.

Researchers, who have been working on the project here since 1951, recover the ejection seat as well as the dummy to test the effects of the jump.

Project Engineer C. A. Brosterhouse said the maximum speed of the sled is now 600 mph, but "we hope eventually to raise it to 1,500 miles an hour," well in excess of the speed of sound.

N. P. O'Neal, Industrialist, Dies at 85

Nathan P. O'Neal, Aged 85, wealthy industrialist and extensive property owner, died early Friday in a local hospital.

Mr. O'Neal owned and operated Hope Brick Works until retirement a few years ago. He established the local plant with a brother in 1907. In 1910 he moved to Hope from Gurdon where he also operated a Brick Yard.

He was very active in civic affairs, a Mason and an honorary member of the Board of Stewards of First Methodist Church. When this city first paved streets Mr. O'Neal was the commissioner. He was also a commissioner of the old Bankhead Highway. For years he operated an experiment farm in cooperation with the Missouri Pacific Railway and was very instrumental in getting the University of Arkansas to locate its Experiment Station here. At one time he was the official record recorder for the U. S. Weather Bureau. In his early life he was a fireman and engineer for the Cotton Belt Railway.

He was at one time president of the Hope National Bank, predecessor to the First National Bank here.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church and taught Sunday School for years and was one of the teachers of the Century Bible Class.

Mr. O'Neal is known to have financially helped many civic projects and institutions. Only a few years ago the Elvins Methodist Church burned and Mr. O'Neal donated $10,000 to rebuilding the Church.

Survivors include two sons, Earl N. O'Neal and Ernest P. O'Neal and a daughter, Mrs. B. W. Edwards, all of Hope and one sister, Mrs. R. A. Rogers of Gurdon.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Saturday at the First Methodist Church by the Rev. Virgil D. Keeley, assisted by Dr. E. C. Clifton. Burial, by Oakcrest Mortuary, will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Active pallbearers: Royce Weisenberger, John Wilson, Lloyd Spencer, Syd McMath, Dr. F. D. Henry, Jack Lowe, Albert Graves and Carter Johnson.

Honorary: Century Bible Class, Justice Ed F. McFadden, and Joe C. Carroll of Little Rock; Paul Hurdley of Dallas, H. K. Stewart of Texarkana, J. E. Fender and Glen Bollinger of Fort Worth, Tex. and Jess Hollis of Florida.

$1.7 Million in Food for State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — More than 30½ million pounds of food, valued at retail at more than $1,700,000, was distributed in the Arkansas surplus commodities program during its first year of operation ending April 30, Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams said yesterday.

Most of the surplus foodstuffs goes to welfare clients and other needy persons. Some of it goes to schools, institutions and summer camps.

The federal government furnishes the commodities, the state Welfare Department administers the program and decides who is eligible and the counties pay the transportation and distribution charges.

Seventy of the state's 75 counties participate in the program. Those which don't are Ashley, Chicot, Crittenden, Drew and Little River.

Evening Shade Singing Sunday

Regular monthly singing service will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Evening Shade Baptist Church. The public is invited.

Mrs. Lossiah Is Custodian of a Dying Past When Women Did Housework, Raised Kids, Plowed

By HAL BOYLE
PINEY GROVE, N. C. (AP) — Time is winning a slow victory over Mrs. Aggie Lossiah, custodian of a dying past.

Aggie, who is going on 76, is one of the few remaining Cherokee Indian women with a first-hand knowledge of old tribal ways and customs.

As a young girl, Mrs. Lossiah, now a widow, walked 170 miles across the mountains to set up housekeeping on a small hillside farm where she has lived more than half a century.

Sitting on the cabin porch, her stockinged feet comfortably stretched out to feel a cooling breeze, Aggie said gravely: "It's all gone to the modern times. Things are changing just as fast as they can change."

Final Day in Local Classroom

Mrs. Theo P. Witt

Pictured at her desk for the last time is Mrs. Theo P. Witt of Paisley Elementary School who will retire after 35 years of teaching, 30 of them in the Hope system.

She met her class this morning and gave out report cards. Later in the morning she was honored with a gift by the School board. Earlier this week her fellow teachers gave a party in her honor and presented her with a gift. The PTA also honored her with a gift.

Mrs. Witt was especially gifted in art, is sympathetic and understanding and has the quality of making children happy. She was professionally minded and faithful to the schools. Her late husband was a member of the local school board for many years and her daughter was also a teacher. She has one son, Jack Witt, of Little Rock.

Mrs. Witt will continue to make her home in Hope.

Washington Is Waiting for Red Invitation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official Washington cocked an eye on the postman today to see if he would bring an invitation to the Joint Chiefs of Staff to visit Moscow.

In what appeared on the surface to be a hint for such an invitation, the White House and the Pentagon said yesterday none had been received but if one was forthcoming without too many restrictions, the nation's top military men probably would accept.

That left the next move up to the Russians, who had suggested they would welcome two or three Air Force officers to Aviation Day ceremonies in Moscow June 24.

There was no official word, however, that they had in mind the top uniformed officials of the Army, Navy and Air Force and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, the Joint Chiefs chairman.

The most complete version of what has taken place came from the usually close-mouthed Soviet Embassy here.

It said that on Monday a Russian colonel attached to the embassy asked a U. S. Air Force colonel to convey to Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, an invitation to send several high American Air Force officers to the Aviation Day Celebration.

Late Tuesday, it was learned, Twining reported this invitation to Radford, who saw President Eisenhower and presumably mentioned it.

Extended Forecast

For May 25-29:

ARKANSAS — Temperatures 2 to 6 degrees above normal. Normal minima 60 to 70, Normal maxima 83 to 86. Warmer north Saturday then continued warm. No important precipitation indicated with only a few isolated afternoon thundershowers.

Statewide Tire Contract Is Studied

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — Bids were opened here May 21 on a state-wide tire and tube contract which, when awarded, will extend to May 31, 1957.

Prices offered ranged from 12 and one-half per cent discount off the net state price list down to list price itself, but the State Purchasing Department will await itself of the results of a year-long test project before making its decision.

A year ago the tire contract was awarded to R. A. Young & Son, Inc., Little Rock, and Watson Tire Co., Springdale, (in the northwest section of the state only) on the basis of bids offering five and one-quarter per cent discount from list for Goodrich products even though better discounts were offered on Armstrong, Mohawk and Pennsylvania tires and tubes. State Purchasing Director Mack Sturgis said at the time that those offering the largest discount "are unable to furnish from 30 to 50 sizes of the tires required and used by the state."

Since then, tires offered by these rejected bidders have been under test on Highway Department vehicles. The test results, expected to be ready May 27, will be used by the Purchasing Department as a guide in making its decision on the new contract.

Bid openings scheduled by the Purchasing Department include, on May 28, for the Health Department, binocular microscope and incubator, for the State Police Weights and Standards Division, additions and alterations at the Thornton weight station, and for the State Police, an air conditioning unit; on May 29, the job of cleaning and painting water tanks and towers at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, alterations to cottages and air conditioning of the administration building at the same institution; and on June 1, stainless steel water pitchers also for the Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Other bid openings scheduled under direct purchasing procedure include, at Arkansas State College on May 28, an electric typewriter bookkeeping machine at the University of Arkansas, on June 1, door hardware, laboratory supplies and equipment, office machines, wrought iron furniture, electric typewriters, a tractor and air conditioning units; at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium June 1, fresh eggs.

The Highway Department will open bids May 31 on cement, ready-mix concrete, precast concrete slab bridge units, timber piling, bridge timbers, untreated Douglas fir, lumber, mineral aggregate, automatic gasoline pumps, sign blanks, guard rails and terminals, reinforcing steel, parts for a mower, reinforcing bars and gas flo-meters. On June 7 the department will open bids on a year-long contract for furnishing asphaltic materials and emulsified asphalt.

Meridian Host to 50,000

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — Meridian today awaited the arrival of an expected 50,000 visitors to the national celebration of hillbilly singer Jimmie Rodgers.

Civ officials said they expected the 50,000 folk song lovers from eastern Mississippi, western Alabama and all over the South to attend the fourth annual Jimmie Rodgers Memorial Celebration today and tomorrow.

More than 250 folk singers will verberate their tribute to the railroad man who made hillbilly singing popular.

Among the top stars expected are Ernest Tubb, Hank Snow, The Duke of Paducah, Jim Reeves, Johnny Philip Morris, the Wilburn brothers, Lefty Frizzell, Jimmy Newman, Jean Shepard, Hawkshaw Hawkins, Freddie Hart, Jim Wilson, and many others.

Many Exposed to Live Polio Virus

BALTIMORE (AP) — A container of live polio virus, apparently broken when an airport cargo handler dropped a crate, leaked out its contents in an airplane last night. Some swift telephoning brought quick action to immunize all those endangered.

The plane was a Capital Airlines DC-4, it took off from Washington with four boxes packed with the virus for delivery to Johns Hopkins Hospital. An airline spokesman in Baltimore said a cargo man dropped the crate in Washington but the damage was not detected until the plane landed at Baltimore's Friendship International Airport.

State PSC Sets Precedent in Gas Increases

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — Gas utilities other than Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. are increasing their prices, though not to the extent that Ark-La. has raised rates. A review of state Public Service Commission records today revealed.

Arkansas Western Gas Co., which has headquarters in Fayetteville and serves a large sector of Northwest Arkansas, has filed many new contracts lifting minimums from as low as 15 cents per 1,000 cubic feet to 17.5 cents.

However, the PSC files reveal that Arkansas Western was inducing its industrial customers to accept the higher minimum before the Commission's letter went out in March to all gas companies, advising them to establish minimums not lower than 17.5 cents.

The PSC letter was itself a departure from precedent. Never before had the Commission or any of its predecessors taken the initiative in bringing about higher utility rates. Examination of PSC records indicated that the letter was intended to help Fort Smith Gas Co. with negotiations to increase the rate to Harding Glass Co. which was 15 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

Another unusual action by the PSC was its order of April 18 fixing the "rate base" of the Mid-South Gas Co. at $12,500,000. The Commission had directed the company to appear for the purpose of determining a basis for calculating rates.

The hearing lasted only a few minutes, meager testimony was presented but the PSC was convinced that the investment reflected in Mid-South's annual report — the sum of the value assigned common stock, the long-term indebtedness and the earned surplus — is far from a fair rate base. That total was $9,412,890 December 31 — the approved rate base is nearly 50 per cent greater.

Hatmaker Yells Lie to Charge of Kickback

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hat manufacturer Sol Schlesinger branded as "a lie" today testimony that he collected kickbacks on a government contract, ostensibly for use in bribing government employees.

The owner of the Ideal Uniform Cap Co. of Freeport, N. Y., refused, however, to hand the Senate Investigations subcommittee documents which he said would prove his story. To do so, he pleaded, might "tend to incriminate me" in an investigation of "income tax indebtedness."

Schlesinger invoked protection of the Fifth Amendment. He accused Miss Jane Mackey of New York of having told "a downright lie" in some of the testimony in which she previously swore she paid off Schlesinger in 1951 to be passed on as "payoffs under the table" to government personnel.

He also accused Miss Mackey of attempted extortion, said she "was usually drunk" when he talked to her and that she is a "confessed" onetime mental case.

Auto Leaves Road, 3 Persons Hurt

An auto driven by Inez Rudd, Negro woman of Texas, went out of control early this morning on Third Street, near McWilliams Peach shed, City Officers reported.

The woman, her husband, Robert Rudd and a 10 month old baby were taken to Memorial Hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises. Their condition was not believed serious.

Officers said the car hit a bridge traveled 57 steps in a ditch, turned back across the Highway, went 12 more steps before hitting an embankment. The vehicle was badly smashed, according to Policemen Anderson and Orr.

Calls for World School Belt to Ease Tension

By MERRIMAN SMITH
From Our Wire Services

WACO, Tex. — President Eisenhower proposed an "intellectual point four," a worldwide belt of technical and scientific schools, today to relieve world tensions.

The President spoke before 11,200 persons, including 685 graduates of Baylor university, in the "Point Four" coliseum. His speech was a long-advertised White House statement on foreign affairs.

Mr. Eisenhower also pleaded for European unity and seemed to be asking support of his foreign policy. He said that world Communism is a "gigantic failure."

And he advised the hundreds of millions of persons behind the Iron Curtain to "walk fearlessly in the fullness of human freedom" behind the leadership of the West.

As to his "intellectual Point Four program," he suggested that the great universities of the country join, "Strongly supported," with private foundations the devoted task of a broad educational program.

He said that the whole world would be stronger, "if there existed adequate institutions of modern techniques and sciences in areas of the world where the hunger for knowledge and the ability to use knowledge are unsatisfied because educational facilities are often not equal to the existing need."

Kolb Justifies Refusal of Patient

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — A State Hospital official says the practice of refusing admittance to senile patients was started by Dr. George Jackson, former superintendent of the hospital.

Speaking yesterday at the annual convention here of the Arkansas Hospital Association, Dr. William Payton Kolb said the hospital was justified in refusing to admit a 68-year-old woman patient Wednesday.

Kolb is hospital director of research and education. He said the woman might have been injured because of overcrowded conditions if admitted. He also said a county is responsible for its own patients where possible.

The woman was returned to Independence County. "If we are inhumane, we are carrying on the policy of the man Gov. Faubus wants to bring down here as superintendent," Kolb said.

There has been speculation that Dr. Jackson, now state director of mental institutions in Kansas, would be successor to Dr. Weing H. Crawfis.

Property Redeemed in Hempstead

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — Among transactions recorded by the state Land Office this week was a property redemption in Hempstead County of 120 acres, west southeast southwest, Section 31-26, and 21.17 acres, north northwest northeast, Section 6-10-26, tax-delinquent in 1952. W. E. Russey paid the $103.22 in back taxes and penalties.

Also redeemed was two acres in Nevada County described as west 70 yards of south 140 yards, north west southwest, Section 25-13-21. This property, on which taxes for 1949 were delinquent, was redeemed by C. C. Bozell for $2.56.

A revival meeting will start June 1 at the McNab Church of Christ and continue through June 10 with Mason Harris of Saratoga leading the preaching. Roy Mobley will lead the singing. Services will start each night at 8 o'clock.

Army Adds New Spark to Feud of Armed Forces

By JOHN W. FINNEY

WASHINGTON, (UP) — The Army today added a new spark to the simmering feud between the military services. It declared that it wants authority to operate heavier and longer-ranged aircraft.

Under a 1952 Army-Air Force agreement, the Army now may operate aircraft no heavier than 5,000 pounds. Such planes are in the light, fixed-wing and helicopter category.

But the Army declared in a "fact sheet" issued yesterday that it now needs planes which would have ranges of perhaps thousands of miles to be used in adjusting guided missile fire and to carry out other missions.

It also said that certain types of planes should be under the "unconditional command" of a ground officer and that Army pilots should not only understand ground warfare but have an interest "undivided by other allegiances."

To carry out the Army program would require a complete overhaul of the 1952 Army-Air Force agreement. The two services already are feuding over the extent to which the Army should have its own aviation arm.

The Army now has about 4,000 planes of its own. In another development on the defense front, a Senate subcommittee on airpower called the nation's air defense commander for questioning today on whether his present interceptors can fight on even terms with the new Russian jet bomber, the Bison.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge was expected to give "no" as his answer. Subcommittee sources said that in previous closed-door testimony Partridge had said that the Bison probably could fly higher than any U. S. interceptor plane now in operational use.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-passed bill to authorize 135,000 new public housing units a year headed today toward the House, which has voted for the last three years to knock out all such authority.

The House has not yet acted this year on the recurring controversy. Housing legislation still is pending in the House Banking Committee. President Eisenhower asked a two-year program limited to 5,000 units a year.

The Senate's much larger figure was included in an omnibus housing bill passed by voice vote last night. Among other things, the bill for the first time would establish a federal program of providing homes for elderly persons.

It also would increase Federal Housing Administration loan insurance authority by three billion dollars, extend the GI home loan program for one year, continue provisions for military, farm and college housing, and provide another 100 million dollars for slum clearance grants.

State Checks Amount to $1.9 Million

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — State expenditures, as recorded by warrants written in the office of State Auditor Nolan Humphrey, totaled only $1,903,331.08 the week of May 17-23. Of the total, payrolls for state employees accounted for $1,013,082. Other expenses of government took $850,249.08.

Work Order on Highway 55

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — The Highway Department issued work orders this week on 11 jobs for which contracts had been let. Among them was a Highway 55 job in Hempstead County on which Southeast Construction Company will now begin construction work under a $257,619 contract.

27-Day-Old Baby Is Youngest Stowaway

NEW YORK (AP)—A baby 27 days old went aboard ship at Naples, Italy, as perhaps the world's youngest stowaway. But he arrived here as a paying passenger. Giuseppe Fabozzi was born after his Italian parental, Mr. and Mrs. Saverio Fabozzi, received a visa to come to the United States.

Fabozzi, a 31-year-old tailor, got the impression that it was unkindly to pay for the baby's passage.

After three days at sea board the liner Independence, the ship's purser spotted the child as a non-paying guest. The parents then forked over $10 the fee for an infant traveling tourist class.

Immigration officials here said the baby was entitled to travel on its mother's visa. The Fabozzis will live in Brooklyn.

Ceremonies to Open Delaware River Bridge

EDGELEY, Pa. (AP) — Governors, George M. Leader of Pennsylvania and Robert Meyner of New Jersey shake hands on the center span of a new bridge over the Delaware River today—and then throw open the last link in a turnpike system stretching 719 miles from New York City to the Ohio-Indiana border.

Formal dedication of the 1-million-dollar mile-long span links the Pennsylvania and New Jersey toll road systems. The Pennsylvania and Ohio turnpikes were joined previously.

In addition, the motorist now will be able to drive with virtually no traffic delay beyond New York into New England. And when the Indiana Turnpike is completed next year, the way will be clear almost to Chicago.

The big bridge connects Edgely in Pennsylvania's Bucks County and Florence in New Jersey's Burlington County. Pennsylvania constructed the 32.3-mile extension of its toll road system to reach the span, while New Jersey provided a nine-mile connecting extension. The construction cost of the bridge was shared by the two states.

Judge Orders Truman Aides to Trial

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Federal Judge Ruben M. Hulen ordered the trial of two Truman administration officials to be resumed Monday despite the illness of a third defendant.

Harry I. Schwimmer, who became ill Tuesday with what his physician described as an attack of angina pectoris, was in court yesterday for a hearing on his condition but later returned to a hospital.

Schwimmer is a defendant with Matthew J. Connelly, who was Truman's appointments secretary, and T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's Tax Division, on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government.

Judge Hulen, in excusing the trial jury until Monday, said if Schwimmer fails to appear at that time without a valid excuse his bond will be forfeited and a warrant issued for his arrest.

Schwimmer's physician said he had not been discharged from the hospital but appeared at the hearing at his own insistence. Judge Hulen asked Dr. Walter Baumgarten Jr., a physician appointed by the court to examine Schwimmer, whether his life might be endangered by proceeding with the trial, now in its third week.

"There is certainly a hazard of the return of angina and a heart attack, but he faces that every day of his life," Dr. Baumgarten replied. Angina pectoris is a condition affecting the blood vessels leading to the heart.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices wilted in the Stock Market today after a promising early rally.

Losses of fractions to around 2 points pervaded the list as substantial earlier gains of leading stocks melted away.

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures eased in early dealings today and then rallied moderately, paced by buying in old crop July.

Trade demand and New Orleans covering found offerings limited in July futures. New crop months followed the July pattern to some extent. In the early afternoon, distant October showed a loss for the day.

Late afternoon prices were 5 cents a bale higher to 15 cents lower than the previous close. July 3.45, October 32.43 and December 32.54.

Department Store Sales Increase

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week averaged six per cent higher than in the corresponding week a year ago.

A 20 per cent drop in sales at Memphis, Tenn., was attributed to a difference in the time of promotions. Elsewhere in the districts the gains averaged 25 per cent at Little Rock, Ark., 12 per cent at Louisville, Ky., 9 per cent in the St. Louis area, and 1 per cent in eight smaller district cities.

Circle 5 WSCS Hears
Devotional on Faith By Mrs. Denver Dickinson
W. S. C. Circle 5 of the First Methodist Church met in the Jett Graves class room Monday, May 21, at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Denver Dickinson and Miss Mary Louise Copeland as hostesses.

The chairs were in a semi-circle and arrangements of beautiful spring flowers placed on the piano and tables in the room. The worship center held a world globe and four white candles, a tall one representing the light of Christ, and three shorter ones representing prayers, service, and gifts we pledge in working in the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The meeting opened with the group singing several hymns followed by prayer.
Mrs. Claude Tillery, chairman, presided over the business session and heard reports from Mesdames John Pierce, Odette Johnson, and Hinton Davis after which she asked for a volunteer to arrange the worship center each month during the new church year. Mrs. Sam Huckabee answered this call.

The program consisted of an inspiring devotional on faith and prayer by Mrs. Denver Dickinson, and a vocal duet, "No Offering I Bring" by Mesdames Harrell Hall and Marilyn Fox Jr., accompanied by Miss Carolyn Lewallen.

and a very impressive pledge service by Mesdames Carl Gaddis, Austin Hutson, Edward Astlin, and Miss Copeland who wore white robes and lighted the tapers as they enacted their parts. At the close of the service all members brought their pledge cards and laid them on the worship table, then joined hands and repeated in unison the circle benediction.

The 31 present including one new member Mrs. Martin Fox, Jr. and one guest, Miss Carolyn Lowallen, were invited downstairs to the Fidelis Class room where the hostesses served frosted drinks and home made cookies from a table laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of sweet peas in a stemmed milk glass container.

Program on Culture Presented at Beta Phi Meeting

The Beta Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Wednesday, May 23 at the Chamber of Commerce office at 7:30 p. m. The meeting opened with the members repeating the opening ritual in unison. After the roll was called the minutes were read and approved. The treasurer's report was then given. The Cultural Program was presented with Tena Lindsey discussing how to make breakfast more pleasant and Charlene Wiggins discussing the ways of honoring house guests. Inez Compton presented a discussion of formal teas and Billy Joyce Higginson discussed formal and informal dinners.

The Pledge Training Program was conducted by Inez Compton. The meeting adjourned with the closing ritual.

Coming and Going

Mrs. Ched Hall will leave Tuesday to spend the month of June with her daughter's family, Dr. and Mrs. John L. Stewart and children in Monte Vista, Colorado.

After spending a two weeks vacation here Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Walters left Wednesday May 23 for their home in Rockford, Ill. While here he visited with his mother, Mrs. J. C. Walters and other relatives in Fulton, his sister, Mrs. Jack Brown and brother Frank Walters of Hope. Also his brother, Oscar in Pine Bluff, Charley Wade and wife accompanied by his mother and aunt, Mrs. J. C. Pate made a trip to Tennessee and visited relatives in Jackson, Paris, Gleason and Trenton.

mas fern for fever.
"But when people get sick now they run to the doctor to get a pill," she remarked. "I never had a doctor until this spring, when I spent a spell in the hospital."

Aggie didn't want to go to a hospital. She had to be talked into it. She has no desire to adjust to modern times, has a deep contempt for new kitchen gadgets. She never has had a home with central heating. She still prefers to cook her meals in an iron pot in her fireplace.

"I don't like a stove," Aggie said. "I wouldn't live in a house without a fireplace."

"Food tastes better cooked in an iron pot in a fireplace than in an aluminum pot on a stove. Women today seem to think they have a better life because they don't have anything to do. But I think folks were happier in my day when they worked harder."

"In my day a girl knew how to hoe corn... to make a garden... to dig in the dirt like a man. Many even knew how to drive oxen and plow the field. Now it seems like girls are afraid to work out in the fields with their parents. There're a lot of changes."

Aggie's dark eyes smiled as she watched one of her chickens in the front yard scratch idly at the grass.

"It was root hog or die poor with me," she mused, "and I do believe I'll die poor. But I got a little place to call my own... a shanty... and that all I care about. I have all I need."

As I got up to leave, Aggie asked where I lived. When I told her I came from New York City, she nodded and said politely:

"Is it a big city? I've heard of it, yes, I've heard of it. I heard it's a terribly muddy place."

Only 85 New Polio Cases in U. S.

pledge by MidSouth not to seek a rate increase, even though its base was being appreciably raised. MidSouth serves 56 communities in Eastern Arkansas.

It buys all its gas from pipelines, in contrast with Arkansas Western which, like Ark-La though on a smaller scale, is a producer as well as distributor. MidSouth's rates are considerably above Arkansas Western's.

Among the customers agreeing to a higher rate for Arkansas Western is the University of Arkansas, for which the 17.5-cent minimum will add about $3,000 annually to expenses. Arkansas Western files its contracts with the PSC but it has not followed the Ark-La example of first getting an okay from the PSC for higher industrial schedules.

Ark-La also is negotiating with its industrial customers for contracts setting up rates averaging somewhat more than the PSC authorized in approving the application. An appeal from that order has been taken by several large consumers to the Pulaski Circuit Court. Those customers and other heavy users who have not signed contracts were warned this week by Ark-La to be prepared for interrupted service in view of the big gain in the number of Ark-La customers.

Several new contracts, including that with Reynolds Metals Co. which was the first actually agreed to after the PSC ruled favorably on Ark-La's application, were filed by the gas company with the Commission this week.

Arkansas Western is preparing to make a 20-year loan of $750,000, of which $300,000 will pay off short term indebtedness with the remainder, according to the company's management, going for exploration and drilling. Its rate schedules — low in comparison with MidSouth's — are dependent upon its replenishing its reserves the comparable week since 1951. However, Public Health Service spokesmen reiterated today it is still too early to say what may happen later in the year. They also said it is too early and information is too scanty to say whether the big drop reflects use of Salk polio vaccine. Paralytic cases are continuing to run proportionately higher this year than last.

Top Doctors Meet at Tyrnza

TYRNZA, Mo. — What officially is a meeting of three districts of the Arkansas Medical Society will be held in a circus tent here this afternoon and tonight and the sponsor says he expects several thousand persons to attend. Despite the medical label, Dr. L. H. McDaniel of Tyrnza has invited distinguished guests of a wide variety, some of them from fields only remotely connected with medicine.

Heads of national and regional medical groups as well as those from dental and other related groups are due to attend. So are senior students from three medical schools. But so, also, are such nonmedical men as, for example, Hugh Roy Cullen, the Texas millionaire, and Eric Cooke Jr., of Dawson, Ga., past national commander of the American Legion. Anyone who wants to show up will be welcome.

Jefferson GOP Names Negro

PINE BLUFF (AP)—A Negro was elected as one of the officers in the Jefferson County Republican Party last night. He is Harold Flowers of Pine Bluff who was elected secretary. The new chairman is M. D. Morgan. Other officers include Warren Liebhorn, first vice chairman; Charlie Knott, second vice chairman, and Carl B. Ham, treasurer.

with gas from its own wells.

At the end of 1955, its equity capital, long term debt and earned surplus totaled $8,349,321; and its 1955 net income was $569,823. Arkansas Western and Ark-La are currently the only Arkansas companies producing as well as distributing gas.

Formerly Arkansas Oklahoma Gas Co. produced gas which it delivered to the Fort Smith Gas Co. and to industries in the Fort Smith area. In 1954, it was dissolved, with Fort Smith Gas Co. taking over its distribution facilities and Stephens Production Co. acquiring the gas wells and gathering lines.

Arkansas-Missouri Power Co. is a relatively newcomer in the gas distribution business. It has franchises in Northeast Arkansas, and, like MidSouth, buys gas from pipelines. Hence its rates also are in a higher range than those of Ark-La, or Arkansas Western.

DOROTHY DIX

Determined Widow He Wants Out!

Dear Dorothy Dix: Recently I met a fellow who is married, but getting a divorce, and the father of two children. I only went with him once but got to like him very much on that date. He hasn't asked to take me out again and I'd like to know how to go about keeping his interest. I am a widow with one child, I've never seen his children but know it would be all right to write him?

Dear Virginia: Let's simmer this down. You already have visions of yourself married to a man you met once, who showed practically no interest in you and who, moreover (though you apparently consider this minor point) happens to be another woman's husband! Love can conquer obstacles, it's true. I doubt if even Cupid could win a running broad jump over these hurdles!

If you did go into active pursuit of your onedater, you would only harm your reputation — and to a widow with a child, that should be a precious thing.

Do wait until a nice, eligible male comes around.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've been going steady for two months with a boy I love dearly. Three weeks ago he asked me to marry him and I accepted. A week ago he failed to show up for one of our dates and hasn't been around since. His only excuse is that he's been busy helping to fix a friend's car. Do you think he's losing interest?

Dear Celeste: The poor boy is scared stiff at his own impetuosity. He doesn't want, in the least, to be engaged to you but hasn't the courtesy or experience to break clean.

You can both save face if you make the break, telling him you haven't known him long enough to be serious. You haven't, you know. Five weeks scarcely constitutes an acquaintanceship.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My only daughter is to be graduated from college and is to be the recipient of several honors. Her mother and I have been divorced for several years, and the girls lives with her maternal grandparents. My former wife and I have attended several school events at which the girl won medals, etc. Is this procedure correct and should we attend the graduation? Our presence there will be particularly noted, as the girl is an outstanding student.

Dear Mae: Congratulations on being able to put aside petty emotions for the sake of your child. By all means attend the graduation and present a united front to the world. I'm sure any other course would mar our daughter's very happy day.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've been big steady with a boy of 23 and now my parents refuse to let me go with him any more. They say he will never amount to anything. I'm true he never held a job for more than a month, but he has truly tried. He is looking for exactly the right job. I'm a junior in high school and want to marry him when I graduate.

Dear Hope: "Exactly the right job," like the pot of gold at the end of a rainbow, Shangri-Lai, the winning answer to a jingle, is always "just around the corner." You are hopeful by nature and nature, but I'm afraid your romance is a bit misplaced. I agree with your parents — the young man won't amount to much.

MAC

It is estimated that in our country the police come in contact with about a million boys and girls each year on charges of delinquency. Since census figures show there will be 45% more children between 10 and 17 years of age in 1960 than in 1950, it is expected that the delinquents will increase to over 1,500,000.

Is not the answer to this growing problem in the CHURCH, where our children, through the Sunday School, will receive a foundation in Christian living — a basis for uprightness? With this in mind, our Sunday School is launching its Vacation Bible School program this summer. You can know your child is safe in Vacation Bible School where he is also becoming a citizen who will be an asset to his community. So send your child to:

When we view this beautiful house with its elegant architectural lines, we are compelled to wonder... "whose house is that? Who was the builder?
Do church people live there?" Perhaps it is a home?

It has been well said, "It takes a heap of living in a house to make it home."
God is only interested in the kind of living it shelters... wholesome living, if you please. The Almighty wants all homes to be shelter in the time of storm; a haven of happiness and peace where His will is supreme; a place where love abounds and greedy selfishness is unknown.

Architects design houses. Builders put them together. But only the Lord of all the earth builds homes. Through teachings embodied in the church she challenges humanity to "drink of the waters of life and live"... live the wholesome kind of living which only is pleasing in His sight.

The church pictures to humanity the world's greatest designer of living...
Jesus Christ, the Son of God. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it," Psalms 127:1. Home implies mutual affection, gentleness, meekness, refinement, and a genuine forbearance. Who lives in the house you occupy? Are its occupants Christian or non-Christian? Have you asked the Lord to help build you a home? Attend your church regularly.

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D.D.
I have suggested that unless the disciples of Jesus challenged the ancient world with their Christianity they could not have found a more concentrated, or possibly a more difficult, place than Antioch in Syria. It represented the height of worldly splendor and with it the depths of corruption and licentious-ness.

Yet Antioch represented also the height of Christian strategy. It has been a maxim of economics and commerce that "trade follows the flag." To a great extent Christian missions have followed both trade and the flag. In some instances the missionaries have been the pioneers.

But, to get back to Antioch, here was a busy city on the caravan routes between East and West, close to the sea, and of easy access to Asia Minor. It was the first area of St. Paul's missionary journeys, thronged with people, many of them Jews, like Paul. There could hardly have been a better strategic base for the movement of Christianity westward, and on to Europe, and eventually to the New World.

Also, in the presence of Barnabas, during the year of Paul's stay there, when he was brought from Tarsus (Acts 11:23), there was contact with Jerusalem, and Barnabas was Paul's first missionary companion.

The Book of Acts tells in vivid chapters the story of Paul's missionary journeys. And when Paul and Barnabas had a sharp, but let us hope not as un-Christian contention about whether or not they would take along John Mark, a cousin of Barnabas (Acts 15:36-41), the effect was to send forth two missionary teams instead of one.

Paul went with Silas, and they had the remarkable experience with the Philippian jailer (Acts 16).
Barnabas went with Mark. We know little concerning the journey of the latter two, but the John Mark is considered the author of the Gospel According to St. Mark, and his reconciliation to St. Paul is evident from Colossians 4:11 and per cent of the world's natural gas.

II Timothy 4:11.

It is not enough to read the Book of the Acts for an account of the missionary journeys. One should follow them carefully with the map found in almost all good Bibles. The area of St. Paul's travels is still today one of uncertainty, tragedy and strife, much in the news, and a present threat of war. The whole Middle East presents difficult the past to the present, or the and perplexing problems.

I think it is of interest to relate present to the past. Names have changed, but situations and places remain.

What has happened to flourishing cities? Antioch is long a thing of the past; a succession of 10 first quakes ruined it within the first six centuries of our era and it fell to successive conquerors in later history.

A remnant of the ancient city has about 30,000 inhabitants, where once half a million lived in prosperity and splendor. As the poet sings:

"Oh, where are kings and empires now,
Of old that went and came?
But Lord, Thy Church is praying yet.
A thousand years the same."

Some Petunia seeds are worth many times their weight in gold.
